

Cookie Policy

Cookies are simple text files that are stored on your computer or mobile device by a website's server. Each cookie is unique to your web browser. It will contain some anonymous information such as a unique identifier, website's domain name, and some digits and numbers.

Virtually Edge's website may collect information about your general internet usage through the use of cookies, which help personalise your online experience. These cookies are automatically downloaded to your computer when used. A cookie is a small text file placed on your hard drive by a web server. Cookies cannot run programmes or deliver viruses to your computer. They are uniquely assigned to you and can only be read by the web server within the domain that issued them.

'Essential' cookies are automatically placed on your computer or device when you access our website or perform certain actions. 'Non-essential' cookies and other technologies are only placed on your computer or device if you have given your consent. By continuing to use our website with your browser settings set to accept cookies, you are consenting to the placement of non-essential cookies on your computer or device.

Cookies may be either "persistent" or "session" cookies. A persistent cookie is stored by your web browser and remains valid until its set expiry date, unless deleted by the user beforehand. A session cookie, however, expires at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

Cookies typically do not contain any information that directly identifies you. However, any personal information we store about you may be linked to the data stored in and obtained from cookies.
